

KEKELA IN THE INSANE ASYLUM

Rev. James Kekela, the aged Hawaiian, who was rewarded by President Lincoln for saving the life of an American whaler, was yesterday committed to the Oahu Insane Asylum by Judge Lindsay on a certificate from Dr. J. T. McDonald showing that the old missionary is insane. But former friends and admirers of Kekela will see to it that his life at the asylum is made pleasant. It was stated yesterday that S. M. Damon would build a cottage on the asylum grounds for the old gentleman to occupy.

J. W. Smithies, Kekela's son-in-law, in his application to have him committed to the asylum, stated that the old man had a habit of getting up in the night and threatening to kill his relatives. He talked to himself and was sleepless. About three years ago for the same complaint he had been confined in the Oahu Prison Hospital for a week.

Dr. McDonald's certificate stated that the old man made homicidal threats, was at times violent, at other times refused to talk, and did not sleep either during the day or night. He imagined that he could see and talk with the spirit of his wife. Dr. McDonald gave the cause of insanity as "exhaustion of mental powers."

The aged clergyman was taken to the asylum last night.

ROYALTY ALWAYS HAS PEWS RESERVED

Editor Advertiser: An evening paper of yesterday contained an item which stated that the Board of Directors of the Protestant Episcopal church had set apart a "free pew" in St. Andrew's Cathedral for the ex-Queen.

This is an error for the reason that all pews are free in the Cathedral, there being no rented pews.

From the time the Cathedral was built, in fact in the old pro-Cathedral also, there have been always seats set apart for the King or Queen and household.

HENRY B. RESTARICK.

IT WILL NOT DO to fool with a bad cold. No one can tell what the end will be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis and consumption invariably result from a neglected cold. As a medicine for the cure of colds, coughs and influenza, nothing can compare with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always cures and cures quickly.
